We see ourselves as uniquely able to engage in dialogue with people of all faiths and act as peacemakers in our city. ARCHDIOCESE OF CHICAGO

November 2011

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

For the past four decades, the Catholic Campaign for Human Development (CCHD) has served as a way to bring the Gospel to light in the lives of the poor and to give Catholics in the Archdiocese of Chicago a way to participate in putting Catholic social teaching into action. Through your generous donations, this year CCHD is funding eighteen organizations in Cook and Lake Counties. These organizations provide programs that create jobs, provide training for adults and educational opportunities for children, and help to stabilize neighborhoods.

Inspired by Catholic social teachings, CCHD is committed to addressing the root causes of poverty. At the core of the CCHD mission is respect for human life from conception to natural death, acknowledging that all human beings are created in the image and likeness of God and are endowed with certain inalienable rights.

Please make a special effort during this season of thanksgiving to give generously to the CCHD collection on November 19–20, 2011. Remember that your contribution to CCHD is not a hand-out, but a hand up, offering hope and help to low-income families and communities. Through your generosity, you share in Jesus' mission "to bring good news to the poor...release to the captives...and to let the oppressed go free..." (Luke 4:18).

One hundred percent of CCHD funding comes from individual donors just like you. Your contribution—no matter the amount—does make a powerful difference. May God bless you for your support of the Catholic Campaign for Human Development.

You and those you love are in my prayers; please keep me in yours.

Sincerely yours in Christ,

Francis Cardinal George, O.M.I.
Archbishop of Chicago

Today's Readings

First Reading — The woman who fears the LORD is to be praised (Proverbs 31:10-13, 19-20, 30-31).

Psalm — Blessed are those who fear the Lord (Psalm 128).

Second Reading — Brothers and sisters, you are children of the light (1 Thessalonians 5:1-6).

Gospel — To all those who have, more will be given, and they will have an abundance (Matthew 25:14-30 [14-15, 19-21]).

Change Our Lives

The letters of Paul to the Thessalonians are among his earliest writings, and are driven by his belief and the belief of the entire early Christian community that the return of Christ was imminent, and that devoting time or attention to anything else was foolish.

As time progressed, this fervor subsided a bit. Today we may wonder, when we hear these readings about the coming end-times, if we should take them to heart, if we really believe that Christ still may come upon us as a “thief at night” (1 Thessalonians 5:2). Does this mean that we are to stop our long-range goal-setting, get rid of our yearly calendars and planners, or stop putting money in the college education fund? Of course not. What it does mean is that we need to change our lives, living like children of the light and illuminating the world around us with the light of the gospel. Then, on that day, when the details of our daily living become unimportant, we will be ready to find our peace and security in Christ Jesus. — © Copyright, J. S. Paluch Co.

Blessing and Dismissal

At the beginning of Mass, the priest made the sign of the cross with us. At the conclusion of Mass, he makes the sign of the cross over us, a sign of blessing. We are then dismissed—not just let out, but sent forth with a mission “to love and serve the Lord.” Just as Jesus blessed his disciples as he ascended to heaven, so this leave-taking is joined to a blessing, a prayer for God’s continuing protection. As we leave the church, we bear the invisible sign of the Master whom we follow. In the words of an ancient letter to Diognetus, “Christians are indistinguishable from other [people] either by nationality, language, or customs. They do not inhabit separate cities of their own, or speak a strange dialect, or follow an outlandish way of life. . . . And yet, there is something extraordinary about their lives” (Liturgy of the Hours, Vol. II, p. 840). We are ordinary people sent forth to live extraordinary lives, lives like Christ’s own life—pouring ourselves out for others in prayer, service, and love. —Corinna Laughlin, © Copyright, J. S. ## Cambia Nuestras Vidas

Bien hecho, mi buen y fiel sirviente

Las cartas de Pablo a los tesalonicenses están entre sus primeros escritos movidos por su creencia, y la creencia de la comunidad de la Iglesia joven, de que el retorno de Cristo era inminente, y que dedicar tiempo y atención a otras cosas era tontería.

Con el paso del tiempo este fervor disminuyó un poco. Hoy, cuando escuchamos sobre la llegada del fin de los tiempos, podemos preguntarnos si la tenemos que tomar en serio, si es que realmente creemos que Cristo todavía puede venir por nosotros como “un ladrón en la noche” (1 Tesalonicenses 5:2).

¿Significa esto que debemos ponerle un paro a establecer metas a largo plazo, despojarnos de nuestros calendarios y agendas anuales, dejar de ahorrar para una educación universitaria? Por supuesto que no. Lo que significa es que necesitamos cambiar nuestra vida, vivir como hijos de la luz e ir iluminando el mundo que nos rodea con la luz del Evangelio. Entonces, en aquél día, cuando los detalles de nuestra vida diaria se tornen poco importantes, estaremos listos para encontrar nuestra paz y seguridad en Cristo Jesús.

La Eucaristía es Nuestro Sacrificio

La imagen del sacrificio en relación a la Eucaristía nos es muy familiar, no sólo por la experiencia de vida, que a menudo es muy sacrificada, sino porque fue la manera en que el pueblo hispano, históricamente hablando, aprendió a ver la Eucaristía y a celebrarla como tal: sacrificio. No hay nada de malo en que la Eucaristía sea sacrificio, porque lo es, es el sacrificio de Cristo por nosotros; al celebrar la Eucaristía como el sacrificio de Cristo, la Iglesia se hace consciente de que Cristo ha muerto una sola vez en la cruz y que el sacrificio que celebramos es en memorial de su pasión dolorosa, de su gloriosa resurrección y de su admirable ascensión al cielo. La imagen del sacrificio nos sigue llamando aún más porque en esa palabra reflejamos nuestra vida y lo que traemos a la celebración. Refleja la historia de nuestros pueblos, no sólo de sufrimiento, sino de la solidaridad que Dios ha tenido con nuestro propio sufrimiento. La celebramos como un acompañamiento mutuo, de nosotros a Dios y de Dios a nosotros en la persona de Cristo, que también es Dios y que por nosotros murió.

Contemplative Prayer: Easier Said than Done

This past week the Men's Spirituality Group took on the topic of contemplative prayer. We did not talk about what contemplative prayer is or the difficulty involved in developing the practice of contemplative prayer. Instead, we participated in an exercise of doing contemplative prayer.

Praying contemplatively is so unlike most forms of prayer. When we pray, usually we do most of the talking with very little listening. Praying contemplatively reverses this chain of communication between the one praying and God; the one praying attempts to quiet the mind and soul in order to listen to God. Good to do, but difficult to achieve.

In contemplative prayer, God does not actually talk in words to the one praying like two humans having a conversation, but moves us internally toward certain elements in our lives that will bring us deeper into a union with God. Sometimes these elements in our lives are pleasant and we sense the love and mercy of God. At other times, these elements are painful, exposing the faults and weaknesses that we must walk through in order to develop a deeper relationship with God.

Our own Saint Teresa of Avila is considered a contemplative. We believe that she achieved a certain state and union with God and that God inspired her to articulate her experiences to us novices. Sometimes, it is a challenge reading the contemplative saints that are there in their practice of contemplative prayer. It is like trying to read and understand physics when we don't quite have algebra down.

If you are interested in developing a contemplative prayer practice I suggest the following two resources by Martin Laird titled (1) Into the Silent Land: A Guide to the Christian Practice of Contemplation and (2) A Sunlit Absence: Silence, Awareness, and Contemplation. These two resources are modern, easy to read, easy to understand, and addresses most of the issues involved in developing a contemplative prayer practice.

Treasure of the Gospel

What would you do if you won a million dollars? Perhaps Jesus knew that telling a story about money would get attention!

It's unfortunate that the word "talent," used in the parable for the coins entrusted to each servant, in English means "an innate ability or "something at which one excels." But Matthew's Gospel is not merely about something as tame as sharing our gifts or talents with one another, though that is always part of our call to serve our community. This is a disturbing and challenging story about what followers of Jesus are to do with the Gospel as they wait for the Lord and watch in faith. A "talent" refers to a huge amount of money, commonly thought to be 15 years' wages for a typical worker. We might say a master gave each servant a million dollars!

In today's story, two servants set out immediately with this treasure. They invest and work to double the money to prove the master right in trusting them with this large sum. And what of the third servant? This servant paints the master in a very different light, describing him as a "demanding person, harvesting where you did not plant and gathering where you did not scatter, so out of fear I went off and buried your talent in the ground. Here it is back" (Matt 25:24-25). He buried his million bucks and gave it back to the master intact.

But what does the parable

of light

© J. S. Paluch Co., Inc.

It is tempting to hide a treasure in the ground. At least it is safe, and it's effortless. Fear can impede us from reaching out.

tell us about the master? He goes on a journey and entrusts his servants with vast amounts of money — an unimaginable treasure to give servants.

He exhibits amazing trust that the servants will take care of his money while he is away. When he learns how the first two have doubled the treasure, he offers lavish praise — "Well done, my good and faithful servant" (Matt 25:21, 23) — and gives them more money and authority. He even concludes with: "Come, share your master's joy" (Matt 25:21, 23). This is really an extraordinary master — trusting, welcoming, generous, benevolent. He gives his servants freedom to risk and to act.

Matthew's community was being invited to open their eyes and see God calling them to invest the treasure the Lord had left them. The treasure is the good news that Jesus taught them, all the ways he invited them to be a community that loves

God "with all your heart ... soul ... and mind" and loves "your neighbor as yourself" (Matt 22:37-39), as we heard a few weeks ago. They could choose to increase the treasure, as the first two servants did, or choose the safer, easier, less risky course, as did the third servant.

It is tempting to hide a treasure in the ground. At least it is safe, and it's effortless. Fear can impede us from reaching out. It can get us stuck. In the passage that immediately follows and that we hear next week (Matt 25:31-46), Matthew tells his community what will be necessary to invest and grow this treasure: "I was hungry and you gave me food, I was thirsty and you gave me drink, a stranger and you welcomed me, naked and you clothed me, ill and you cared for me, in prison and you visited me." These were not easy tasks then and are no easier now. Forget fear, do God's will.

Paul's first letter to the Thessalonians reinforces the message of being ready to act, "for the day of the Lord will come like a thief at night" (5:2). Live each moment alert and aware of what you have been given. What treasure did Jesus give us? How did Jesus act? Go and do the same.
