We see ourselves as uniquely able to engage in dialogue with people of all faiths and act as peacemakers in our city. ## Hearing Aid

These days the word “obedience” has come to mean surrendering control. The original Latin, obaudire, meant “to listen well.” Let’s face it, many of us have an unconscious aversion to others. We want to be around them, but not get too familiar. Is it true that committed relationships—in a marriage, family, or parish—limit us? God created us to reach our full potential only in communion with others. We begin by learning to repent and to obey. “Repent” in scripture translates the Greek metanoia, or “change one’s mind (or heart).” So repentance and obedience go hand in hand. We must “listen responsibly” to learn our limitations and strengths, and translate them into action. Wonderful, blessed things can happen when everyone listens and responds appropriately to what is asked of them. Truly, where God is there are no limits to what can be done in love for God’s glory and for the salvation of all humankind.

Living Stewardship Now

Make a consistent effort to listening attentively—to God in prayer and during Mass, to people in conversations. Consider carefully what response is being asked of you; then put it into action.

A La Escucha

Hoy día la palabra “obediencia” ha llegado a significar una renuncia de control. Mas, el vocablo original del latín, obaudire, significa “escuchar bien”. Nosotros los hispanos hacemos amistad fácilmente, pero escucharnos unos a otros generalmente nos cuesta más. Y sin embargo, ¿podemos entrar en una buena relación—como en el matrimonio, la familia o la parroquia—sin escucharnos mutuamente? Dios nos creó para que podamos llegar a nuestra máxima capacidad sólo en comunión con los demás. Hay que empezar por aprender a arrepentirnos y a obedecer. El “arrepentimiento” en las Escrituras viene de la palabra griega metanoia o “cambio de mentalidad (o de corazón)”. Por lo tanto, el arrepentimiento y la obediencia van de la mano. Debemos “escuchar responsablemente” para conocer nuestras limitaciones así como nuestros puntos fuertes y traducirlo en acción. Pueden darse muchas bendiciones y suceder cosas maravillosas cuando todos se escuchan mutuamente y responden apropiadamente a lo que se les pide. Ciertamente que donde está Dios no hay límites en lo que nuestro amor puede hacer para la gloria de Dios y la salvación de toda la humanidad.

La corresponsabilidad vivida ahora

Esfuerzate constantemente por escuchar atentamente, a Dios en la oración y durante la Misa, a las personas en sus conversaciones. Considera cuidadosamente la respuesta que te piden, luego ponla en práctica.

Do you have a few hours once a month that you can dedicate to the church? Of course you do! One of the ministries that is always in need of help is the Counting Team.

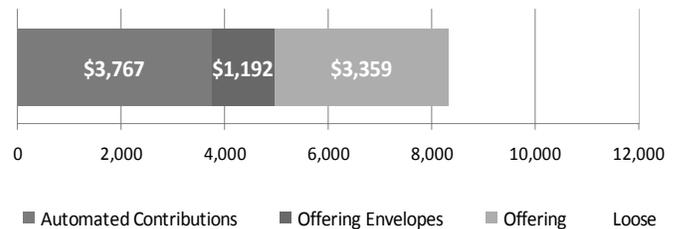

The counters help to organize and deposit the church's funds on a weekly basis. Without them, the finances would come to a halt.

If you are interested in joining us, please contact Erica at (773) 528-6650 or esacucci@gmail.com.

Today's Readings

First Reading — The church was being built up, and grew in numbers (Acts 9:26-31).

Psalm — I will praise you, Lord, in the assembly of your people (Psalm 22).

Second Reading — Let us love not in word or speech, but in deed and truth (1 John 3:18-24).

Gospel — Remain in me, as I remain in you. I am the vine, you are the branches (John 15:1-8).

Bearing Fruit

Few of us, even when we meditate on the image of the vine and branches, stop to really think about how God “prunes” us. For some there is the danger of thinking that we are already producing fruit for the kingdom, in deed and truth as John says, perhaps raising a family, being active in our parish, and so on. But even those branches which are bearing fruit, the Gospel tells us, can be pruned to produce still more. Today Saul, freshly “pruned” by his conversion, arrives in Jerusalem and meets resistance. Since he had been persecuting Christians, this was only natural. But even after he is accepted and begins to bear fruit, he meets further adversity, and his letters are filled with many accounts of how his trials “pruned” him to produce greater fruit for the kingdom. Like him, as long as we remain in Christ we will continue to bear fruit and, when the will of the Father determines it is time to prune us, the strength of the true vine must enable us to endure it. — Copyright © J. ## Treasures from Our Tradition

The month of May has not only good weather, but an interesting pedigree. It is named after the Roman goddess Maia, said to be the mother of Hermes, or Mercury. The Romans saw it as “love’s month,” while in England, more practical farmers called it “Three Milks,” since the cows grazing on spring-time’s bounty could produce at a phenomenal rate. Old customs die hard, and Christians have never made peace with May-time frolics. No wonder that popular tradition dedicated the month’s prayers and devotions to Mary, although we cannot lose sight of the fact that the liturgy always has Easter at the center of celebration. Recent developments have enriched Mary’s place in a cycle of feast days woven through the whole year, dedicated Saturday as a weekly day for devotion, and highlighted Mary’s role in the Advent story. In fact, every day of the year Evening Prayer centers on the singing of Mary’s Canticle of Praise. The fifty days of Easter culminate on Pentecost with Mary, present of course for Christ’s birth, waiting in the upper room for the birth of the church. — James Field, Copyright © J. S. Paluch Co.

Den Frutos

Pocos de nosotros, incluso cuando meditamos sobre la imagen de la vid y los sarmientos, nos detenemos a pensar realmente acerca de cómo Dios nos “poda”. Para algunos, existe el peligro de pensar que ya estamos produciendo frutos para el reino, de verdad y con hechos como dice Juan, tal vez criando una familia, siendo activos en nuestra parroquia y así. Pero incluso aquellas ramas que están dando sus frutos, nos dice el Evangelio, se pueden podar para producir aún más. Hoy Saulo, recién “podado” por su conversión, llega a Jerusalén y encuentra resistencia. Ya que había estado persiguiendo a los cristianos, esto era natural. Pero incluso después de que lo aceptan y comienza a dar frutos, se encuentra con más adversidad, y sus cartas están llenas de muchos relatos de cómo sus pruebas eran “podas” para que produjera más frutos para el Reino. Al igual que él, siempre y cuando permanezcamos en Cristo, vamos a seguir dando frutos y, cuando la voluntad del Padre, determine que es hora de que nos pode, la fuerza de la vid verdadera deberá permitirnos soportarlo. – Copyright © J. ## Tradiciones de Nuestra Fe Durante la Última Cena, Jesús dijo a sus apóstoles: “Yo soy la vid, ustedes son los sarmientos” (Juan 15:5). Jesús añade que los sarmientos (ramas) que permanecen en Él, dan mucho fruto. Según la agricultura, la vid es una parra, es decir, una planta perenne de ramas frondosas.

Una parte importante de la vid son las hojas. Es obvio que una vid tiene hojas, pero Jesús no las menciona, prefiere enfocarse en los sarmientos. Las partes de la vid son las raíces, tronco, sarmientos, hojas, flores y fruto. Según esta división Jesús sería el tronco, pero él dice ser la vid completa. Esta es una imagen de la unidad que Jesús quiere entre sus seguidores. Recordemos que Jesús celebra la Última Cena con sus discípulos. La comunidad de discípulos unidos a Jesús formamos la vid. Los sarmientos o ramas conducen agua y minerales a las hojas, flores y frutos, y son útiles en tanto estén unidos a la vid. Lo mismo vale de los cristianos, discípulos de Jesús. Son ellos y ellas los que hacen presente y le dan vida a Jesús en el mundo de hoy. – Fray Gilberto Cavazos-Glz, OFM, Copyright © J. S. Paluch Co.

Acceptance:

The way to serenity and peace of mind.

One of the more perplexing religious/ethical questions is, "Why do bad things happen to good people?" Most of the faithful have asked this question. Scripture scholars will have us turn to the book of Job in attempt to find an answer. But in the end, the bible really does not give us an answer. In Job's case, he was a righteous man that suffered terribly. Job's only answer to the question of "why" his suffering, was to have faith and trust in God.

One strain of the philosophy of religion makes the case that man has actually created the concept of God and religion out of fear. Namely, that man cannot control most, if not all, of the variables in his life. And this fact of being out of control scares the living day lights out of man and as a response to buffer himself from this fear man has created a God that protects him, a God that he can go to in times of trouble.

At one of our recent gatherings, our Men's Spirituality group took on the concept of "Acceptance." We read through a little pamphlet titled "Acceptance: The way to serenity and peace of mind." A wide range of responses were shared regarding how each of us deals with troubling news or challenging events in our lives.

For men, if we can't manage it, control it or get a handle on it... well, the challenging it becomes very difficult personally and mentally. I mean, we are supposed to be charge here aren't we? And to hear "you just have to let it go," or "you just need to take a positive attitude toward it," does not help. What helps is the gift of faith from God. What helps more is the gift of faith from God in the context of a community of believers. For sometimes, actually most of the times, we cannot do it alone.

Midwest Workers Association At St. Teresa this Weekend

Next weekend, May 5th and 6th, members of Midwest Workers Association (MWA) will be in the Gathering Space before and after Mass.

MWA is a free and voluntary membership association of the greater Chicago area's lowest-paid workers, as well as those out of work or on fixed incomes. Since 1996, MWA has been uniting its membership of low-income workers with business owners, professionals, students, clergy and others to build a powerful force to eradicate the root causes of poverty.

More volunteers and support are urgently needed. Please stop by MWA's table to find out how you can join these historic efforts.

Help The Women's Center

Pregnant women in difficult situations often find themselves feeling confused, under pressure and alone. At The Women's Center our counselors help them through friendship, counseling, and material assistance.

Volunteers are needed to help sell flowers after Masses for our annual flower sale on Mother's Day weekend, May 12-13. Help is also needed sorting donations in our Chicago Family Resource Room on Monday and Wednesday afternoons. Call Jackie at (773) 794-8807.

We need for baby shampoo, baby wash, lotion and powder, maternity clothing and diapers sizes 5 and 6. These must be delivered to us unless accompanied by baby furniture. We desperately need 6 fixed-side baby cribs, 8 infant/carrier car seats, 6 pack-n-plays, 2 changing tables, 4 double strollers, 5 single strollers and 4 bassinets.

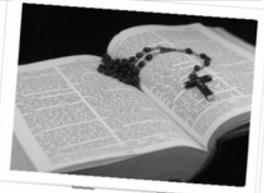

It will be a great help if you can deliver these to us. For our address, or if a pick-up is needed, please call (773) 794-1313.

Due to limited space we are unable to accept anything except the items listed.

PRESERVING OUR HERITAGE

Beyond Suspicion

The first Christian community in Jerusalem was afraid of Paul. Because they didn't trust him. Because they were suspicious of his motives. Because he raised their stress level.

You and I know all about fear and trust and stress and suspicion.

If the 20th century was called the "age of anxiety," the 21st century might be called the "age of suspicion." We are streetwise. We spend much of our energy trying to see through people, trying to "suss" out situations. We've developed a sixth sense about who to trust. We automatically assume that behind every good deed lurks some motive for personal profit.

And, unfortunately, our worst suspicions are often confirmed by sordid scandals in high places. It seems no trust is too sacred to be betrayed, in large institutions or in personal relationships. Friendships are fragile, contracts are breakable, marriages are dissoluble.

Surrounded by so much suspicion, we begin to doubt our own integrity. And the final victim is God: We wonder if even God can really be that loving and kind and forgiving.

From there, it's easy to become paranoid. Fearing to be taken in by some and found out by others, we take defensive measures. The rich hide behind gated communities, the middle class get entrenched in lifestyle enclaves and the poor retreat into bigotry. All of us squat behind protective shields, poised for attack, trusting no one.

Surrounded by so much suspicion, we begin to doubt our own integrity. And the final victim is God...

That situation is not unlike the situation of the first Christian communities. They were a small minority within an entrenched Judaism and an established Roman power. To the Jews they were heretics, to the Romans they were atheists. To everyone they were suspect. They huddled together for safety, trusting no one.

Then, into this fearful, anxious little group came Paul. He was a sophisticated, educated, literate man, unlike most of them. He was a foreign-born Jew from Tarsus and a Roman citizen. He was not like the really faithful Jews who lived in Jerusalem; and with dual citizenship, he must have a divided heart. How could they trust him?

It was only after one of the inner circle vouched for him that they reluctantly accepted him. But as soon as he started to get involved in preaching their cherished beliefs, their fear of outsiders became unbearable. They thought their only safety lay in killing him.

Our own fear of other people, our suspicion of their motives, our mistrust of novelty seldom reaches a violent response. But when we suspect the worst in others, we are more apt to bring it out.

Without trust, we become defensive rather than proactive. It's like a football game with both teams playing not to lose instead of playing to win. We may appreciate the skill, but it is a grim, ugly contest, a true no-win situation. That kind of life is mere survival instead of a joyful adventure.

But the greatest victim is, again, God. We set up defenses against God — because not even God can be finally trusted. We pit our justice against God's mercy, our betrayal against God's faithfulness. We try to win God's approval instead of accepting God's unmerited love. We think it's safer to obey laws than to love God. The relationship unravels.

It is all such a waste. If God wants to harm us, we cannot escape. We have no recourse but to trust in a goodness beyond our imagination.
