- The offertory collection for last weekend, October 19-20, 2013, was $8,019.
- For the 2014 Fiscal Year, Sunday and Holy Day collections are down 14.4% from the 2013 Fiscal Year; versus expenses, we are have a $63,602 deficit.
- For the 2014 fiscal year, the cost per family per week is $36 as 430 families contribute to the Parish.

“What a good boy am I!”

It's not that the Pharisee's prayer is a bad prayer. It starts out well: “O God, I thank you . . .” Gratitude is good. But then it gets into boasting: “I am not like the rest of humanity . . . I fast . . . I pay tithes” (Luke 18:11, 12). It's a Little Jack Horner prayer. Remember the old nursery rhyme that ends with Jack saying, “What a good boy am I!”? The Pharisee's prayer is all about him and what he does, all the while gauging the distance between himself and the rest of humankind.

In contrast, the tax collector “stood off at a distance” with bowed head, beating his breast and saying, “O God, be merciful to me a sinner” (18:13). He knows who he is and who God is and what God alone can do for him. No repetitive “I,” no swelling ego there, just a repentant figure, one who asks to receive what only God can give—mercy.

Jesus tells this story “to those who were convinced of their own righteousness and despised everyone else” (18:9). How do we hear it? It acknowledges God who makes us “just,” that is, who helps us to be in proper relationship with God, with each other, and with all creation.

Sirach reminds us that our just God hears the cry of the oppressed, the wail of the orphan, the complaint of the widow, the petition of those who serve God willingly, and the prayer of the lowly. These folks allow room for God to enter their minds and hearts, and then all kinds of things can begin to happen, both within and all around them. Copyright © 2012, World Library Publications. “¡Qué niño más bueno soy!”

No es que la oración del fariseo sea mala. En realidad comienza bien: “Dios mío, te doy gracias . . .” La gratitud es algo bueno. Pero entonces empieza a vanagloriarse: “no soy como el resto de los hombres . . . ayuno . . . pago los diezmos” (Lucas 18:11, 12). Esa clase de oración me recuerda a una antigua canción de cuna en inglés donde al final el niño Jack dice: “¡Qué niño más bueno soy!” La oración del fariseo se enfoca en él mismo y en las cosas que hace midiendo la distancia entre él y el resto de la humanidad.

En contraste el recaudador de impuestos, “manteniéndose a distancia”, se mantenía cabizbajo y se golpeaba el pecho diciendo: “Dios mío, ten compasión de mí, que soy un pecador” (18:13). Él sabe quién es él y quién es Dios, y sabe también lo que sólo Dios puede hacer por él. En su oración no está el “yo” repetitivo ni un ego creciente, sino alguien arrepentido que pide lo que sólo Dios puede dar: misericordia.

Jesús le hace esta historia a los que “presumían de ser hombres de bien y despreciaban a los demás” (18:9). ¿De qué manera la escuchamos nosotros? Esta historia reconoce que es Dios quien nos hace “justos”, o sea, quien nos ayuda a mantener nuestras buenas relaciones con Dios, con los demás y con toda la creación.

El libro del Eclesiástico nos recuerda que nuestro Dios justo escucha el clamor del oprimido, la súplica del huérfano, las quejas de la viuda, la oración del que sirve de buen grado y la del humilde. Esta gente deja que Dios entre en su mente y en su corazón, y así comienzan a suceder muchas cosas, tanto interiormente como al derredor.

Building Faith Together Collections Reach $352,240

$1,320,000 We have formally entered the collection phase of our campaign and have collected $352,240 in pledges so far. There is a "thermometer" depicting pledges collected located in the church, which we will update in $88,000 increments.

Even though we have reached our pledge goal, we are still accepting pledges to cover unanticipated costs from changes in fees, demolition of the old school and convent buildings, or the renovation of the church. Pledge cards are available on the tables at the back of church and in the gathering space.

I pray that everyone will rejoice in the graces and hard work of so many of our fellow parishioners and make a meaningful gift that will lead us through a successful effort.

Thank you and God Bless!

Fair Trade Market November 3rd

Get an early start on your Christmas shopping and help support indigenous artisans from around the globe!

The Human Concerns Commission of St. Clement Church is holding a Fair Trade/Green Market on Sunday, November 3rd, from 9:00 am to 1:00 pm in Fireside Hall at St. Clement School, 2524 N. Orchard.

Local vendors will offer quality, eco-friendly products including clothing jewelry, accessories, home décor, beauty and bath products, children's gifts and gourmet treats.

These items are all ethically sourced, as the vendors work closely with artisan groups from third world countries where the workers are receiving a just wage for their work. Many of the goods featured use recycled and natural materials.

As consumers, we have the power to affect positive world change by supporting sustainable and fair trade business practices in our purchasing choices.

Christmas Dinner for those in Need

Are you disillusioned by the materialism of Christmas? Would you like to celebrate Christmas with a spirit of love and outreach? Please join us as we prepare a Christmas Dinner Celebration for those in need.

A small group of St. Teresa of Avila parishioners is planning on providing a Christmas Dinner Celebration for those in need between 12:00 pm and 2:00 pm on Christmas Day. We need people to help in four areas:

- Writing invitations;
- Gathering gifts and wrapping them
- Planning and preparing the meal
- Planning and preparing the Celebration (decorations, music, etc.)

We are just beginning the planning process, so please email Laura King if you would like to get involved: lauraking8383@gmail.com .

Once we have a group of volunteers to help, we will schedule a meeting.

"When you give a dinner or a banquet, do not invite your friends or your brothers or your kinsmen or rich neighbors, lest they also invite you in return, and you be repaid. But when you give a feast, invite the poor, the aimed, the lame, the blind, and you will be blessed, because they cannot repay you. You will be repaid at the resurrection of the just." (Luke, 14, 12-14)

Celebrating 125/500

Jesus does not want us to "become weary" and not lose heart, an experience we are all too familiar with. A consistent life of prayer is the only response to never losing heart or becoming discouraged with life. And it is easy to lose heart ...when we are lonely, searching for the right person or friend; when we are caught in addictive behaviors that imprison our spirits; when our marriages seem to be lifeless and going nowhere; when our children can't seem to find their way; when the work we do is exhausting and not meaningful; when our political and religious leaders are not in touch with our lives when technology and busyness have grabbed a hold of our lives. The list is endless....

Prayer is the only response to becoming weary and losing heart. Our patron saint, Teresa of Avila, knew what it was like to become weary and let one's heart be swept away. She experienced constant barriers to her movement of reform. Many of her own Carmelite nuns despised her efforts and tried to have her removed from her position of leadership. The Inquisition was called in to examine her teachings to see if they were heretical. She spent most of her time outside the cloister traveling around Spain founding a number of monasteries and convents. And she had to endure many illnesses, both physical and psychological.

But Teresa never lost her heart because she kept turning to God in prayer, spending many years with no consolation in her life of prayer. If anything, what she experienced was a total absence of God's Presence. But she kept pleading, and praying and entering solitude, like the widow in today's gospel. In the time of Jesus, widows were completely vulnerable due to the fact that they had no male to shelter them and give them security. Widows depended on the Law which commanded that they be taken care of and the widow in the gospel was only asking for what she deserved: "a just decision for me against my adversary." We no nothing of the details except that she was simply asking that justice be served.

Prayer and justice go hand in hand. Justice is grounded in the dignity of each and every human life. The widow was simply pleading that her dignity be respected or restored. Teresa teaches us that it is through prayer we learn God's will which is to respect our own lives the lives of every human being...to love our neighbor by "washing feet."

When we become weary and about to lose heart, prayer opens our hearts to receive the Peace that only God can give. When we lose heart, we become like the judge in the parable: uncaring, indifferent and cold. We can never lose heart, for when we lose heart, we lose our humanity and injustice begins to take root, first in our hearts and then in institutions and governments, including our church.

In all the times we become weary and want to lose heart, we are on the verge of losing our dignity, which in turn, is the seed of injustice. If we lose our own self-dignity, the dignity of others will mean nothing. Prayer plants the seeds of a just and caring world.

One year from now we will begin a year-long celebration in honor of our parish's 125 anniversary and the 500th anniversary of the birth of St. Teresa. Like the widow, we have been a persistent presence in Lincoln Park, refusing to give up in the face of many challenges: immigration, cultural and language diversity, transformation of the neighborhood and the presence of many large parishes surrounding us. We are only praying for what is rightfully ours: to be here serving the needs of the lonely and poor in response to our being rooted in the Catholic faith. We are needed in the larger Catholic Church to further its mission to proclaim the gospel of Christ and we have Teresa of Avila to guide us and to be a persistent presence in our life as a faith community.

One year from now we will begin our year of Faith with the Pilgrimage to Santiago, provided there is enough support. Yes, I will be walking the Way once again and picking up and leaving off parishioners who want to be a part of this pilgrimage of faith. The entire journey is about 5 weeks but you can decide to go for one week, or ten days, or two weeks or more. The point is to begin the anniversary year with pilgrimage, walking day after day, mile after mile, kilometer after kilometer with no destination in mind. The journey IS the destination. It doesn't matter how far you go or where you join the path or leave the path. What matters is to strengthen your resolve to keep the journey going on your return home, which is when the pilgrimage really begins.

Beginning in October 2014 our year of faith will include the Pilgrimage to Santiago, an Advent opportunity for a mission, evenings of recollection in the Winter, Lenten retreat and mission, and the closing of our church to prepare for renovation in the Spring of 2015. Everything is tentative, depending on the commitment and interest of our parishioners.

However we celebrate our 125/500 anniversaries, may the celebrations and prayer strengthen us to never lose hope, as individuals and as a community.

— Fr. Frank, Homily, 29th Sunday in Ordinary Time (10-20-2013)
